Crown Linseed Oil Works Destroyed by Fire.

Occupied by the Ryan Commission Co. as a Warehouse.

TWO MEN REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN LOST IN THE FLAMES.

The Loss on the Building and Contents Is Estimated at $150,000—Origin of the Fire Supposed to Have Been Spontaneous Combustion — A General Alarm.

At 1:45 o'clock this afternoon fire broke out in the old Crown Linseed Oil Works, at Sixteenth street and Clark avenue. The fire started in the elevator attached to the works, which is leased by the Ryan Commission Co., and is used for storing wheat. A general alarm was turned in, but the fire spread rapidly, and by the time that the engines had gotten well at work the flames had extended to the oil works. The fire was discovered by H. M. Johnson, superintendent of the Crown Works. He was in the rear of the premises and saw the flames coming out of the car doorway. Joseph Loux, the office boy at the Crown works, discovered the fire at the same time and turned in an alarm.

Mr. Johnson said that he had no idea of how the fire originated, but thought that it must have been caused by spontaneous combustion. He said that he thought that the loss to the Crown works would be fully $120,000. The Ryan company, he said, would lose about $30,000, as the company had a good deal of wheat stored in the elevator. The Crown works has been shut down for the past year and had not as much stock on hand in consequence as would have been the case had the works been in operation.

MADE A HOT FIRE.

The fire was one of the hottest this department has faced for many months, and but for the fact that the plant was accessible from all sides would undoubtedly have worked sad havoc with the surrounding property. The property consisted of a low two-story brick office structure on the southwest corner, and running back sixty feet to the alley along Sixteenth street. That part of the structure resisted the fire well, but the warehouse adjoining it upon the west, and bounded on the north by Clark avenue, and on the south by an unimproved lot, was an easy mark. With its heavy wooden frame saturated with the oil absorbed during the use of the structure by the Crown Oil Co., sheathed with iron, punctured with enough windows to give good draught, the building was very soon filled with a column of lurid flame. The fire roared upward withering the wooden rafters and curling up the iron sheets by which they were covered, and as soon as doors and windows had burned out the structure was a perfect furnace. Luckily the resources of the department were from the first concentrated toward confining the fire within a structure that was seen to be doomed, and the aims of the firemen were promoted by the isolated character of the plant.

TWO MEN PROBABLY LOST.

But this fortunate circumstance could not dispel from the mind of every spectator the fact that two men were seen upon the upper floor of the building just as the fire started, and to the time the flames were under control there was no assurance that they had escaped death. At that time they were still missing and the worst was feared for them. Their names could not then be learned.

AT 8 O'CLOCK THE BUILDING COLLAPSED.

THE BURNED BUILDING.—The burned building was owned by the Crown Linseed Oil Co., who built it about thirteen years ago and occupied it until about three years ago. Then it was leased to D. P. Slattery as a grain elevator temporarily while the Merchants' Elevator was being erected. About two years ago the Ryan Commission Co. leased it as a grain elevator. It has a capacity of some 250,000 bushels. The Ryan Commission Co. is composed of Frank H. Ryan, who is President, and his son John D. Ryan, Secretary.

National Union of Brewery Workmen.

The National Union of Brewery Workmen, now a national assembly of the Knights of Labor, is still in session. The General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor was called to adjourn every local assembly of Brewery Workmen which are already in the hands of the Knights of Labor—Trade Assembly. The Committee on Laws finished their report conforming the constitution of the new organization, the Knights of Labor. The report was adopted and ordered printed in English and German. The Breweries Workmen are now organized as a national trade body, and as a member of the American Federation of Labor and Knights of Labor.

In the meantime the Board installed the newly elected officers last night. The per capita tax to the District Assessor was fixed at 1c.

THEY THREW DISHES.

Michael Madden keeps a saloon on the northeast corner of High street and Franklin avenue. About 8:30 o'clock last evening his wife, Johanna Madden, and her servant, Edna Kane, descended the steps from their apartments above the saloon with Mr. Madden's supper on a tray. Mr. Madden, indignant at some reason, threw the tray, dishes and all at his wife's head. Mrs. Madden, dazed and bleeding profusely.

SANTA FE'S AFFAIRS.

New York, April 20.—Semi-official announcement is made that the newly-organized reorganization committee of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad system, which, it is claimed, will prove acceptable to all interests in the country. It is not thought that the committee will find it necessary to call for the deposit of any class of Council Bluffs. They demanded to see some Jackson Meet—Supt. Cox Shot At—Great Activity on Railroads.

OMAHA, Neb., April 20.—Three thousand laboring men marched out of Omaha to-day with banners flying, bound for the camp of Gen. Kelly's commonwealthers at Weston, Io., fourteen miles east of Council Bluffs.

At 9 o'clock this morning the signal agreed upon at last night's meeting of the Central Labor Union—the ringing of church bells and the blowing of whistles—was given, announcing that the Kelly's army was still at Weston unable to secure a train for the East. Inside of five minutes, 1,000 men had gathered at Jefferson Square and were quickly organized into companies with a captain for every ten. The march was taken through Sixteenth street to Farman where the column proceeded to the City Hall and counter-marched.

Every street recruits were received, and when the column reached the Paxton Hotel there were 2,500 men in line. Each company was provided with an American flag and as fast as recruits joined they were formed into companies and provided with banners.

At Eleventh and Farman, the marchers in company with the detachment of 500 men, They joined forces and proceeded to the Douglas street bridge, across Missouri river, where they were met by the superintendent of the bridge, who said the company was glad to give them free transportation. This was a graceful act, for the men were prepared to cross with or without permission.

It had been expected that the railroads would not join the column, but that part of the programme was not carried out. The company men when they came to work that those working would be expected to remain on duty all day. The master mechanics also prevented the blowing of the Northern Pacific.

At every street recruits were received, and when the column reached the Paxton Hotel there were 2,500 men in line. Each company was provided with an American flag and as fast as recruits joined they were formed into companies and provided with banners.

At 11 o'clock the marchers, headed by Mr. T. Hersey, made an attempt to lay siege to the Rock Island depot, but were repelled by the railroad officials.

"Hold on, brethren; don't forget that we are here to march to the east," said Dr. Duray, who said the committee was not in Council Bluffs to rule the Governor but to representatives of the railroads, but were on the way to help Kelly's army. Supt. Goodnow, so much concerned over the recent maniacal destruction of railroad property, he said he could not get a large enough force to stop all destructive acts, but would stop all trains and get all rolling-stock out of the way.

Sup't. Goodnow has started for Council Bluffs in company with the men who will be in command and may make a demand for military protection.

At 12 o'clock Manager St. John of the Rock Island passed through here on a special car.

He was accompanied by Mr. Pusey of Council Bluffs. The train stopped here for a few moments, and then went on to Council Bluffs with Supt. Fox. The party in St. John's car came out on the platform and went to the station to meet the train, which will be a fast one, will leave St. Louis at 2:30 o'clock p.m., and will reach New York the next evening via the Vanderbilt system, Lake Shore and New York Central.

Shortly after this gratifying information reached St. Louis a Post-DISPATCH reporter had a talk with Mr. Snyder in his private office. In commenting on the service he said: "I have been quietly working for this train for some time, knowing that it would be of a small benefit to St. Louis and the Big Four.

Mr. Langlet had a summons for the Trubé brothers, the brothers of the immortal Abe Jake Slapsky, engaged in the storage business at 28th Street.

best for St. Louis local interests both east and west. How can the railroads say, with such statement of fact, that St. Louis is not better situated for the great bulk of travel between New York and the Southwest and West? It is true that if the old rut is continued of solely morning and evening, the development of the railroads improvement can be made, but had the railroads in the past decade devoted their attention to the shortest and quickest geographical route, there would not have been a falling off in the through passengers from Kansas City to New York on the Rock Island road, as shown by the statistics, from 62 to 25 cent.

ASSOCIATE JUDGE MURPHY.

The Newspaper Man Offered a Position in the Fair Grounds Stand.

Joseph A. Murphy, assistant sporting editor of the Chicago Tribune, has been tendered the position of associate judge and assistant handicapper to Judge Burke at the coming Fair Grounds running meeting. C. L. Petrus, an Eastern turf writer, will also be here to assist Judge Burke in the stand. Mr. Murphy formerly resided in St. Louis, and is a son of Street Commissioner M. J. Murphy. He left the sporting editorship of the Globe-Democrat to accept his present position with the Chicago Tribune, and the Tribune has been asked for his terms by the new Fair Association management.

FOUR-HANDED FIGHT.

Constable Langlet Has Troubles Serving a Summons.

There was a small-sized riot about 10:30 this morning on the corner of Ninth and Carr streets, between Max and Charlie Trubé, Jake Slapsky and Mark Langlet, Constable at Justice Hart's court.

Mr. Langlet had a summons for the Trubé brothers, who had been sued for $100 on a note by Mrs. Flora Slapsky, the wife of Abe Jake Slapsky, engaged in the storage business at 28th Street.

Jake Slapsky accompanied the Constable to Trubé's residence. The Trubé brothers had jumped on Jake Slapsky, and a four-handed fight resulted, in which the Trubés were arrested. Officer McDonald, who is the son of Jake Slapsky, and Constable Langlet to the Third District Station. All received a bond.

Meetings have been held, a large choir organized and people generally aroused to the work. The opera-house has been secured and nothing left undone to insure success.

PROSPERITY IN ST. LOUIS.

What Chauncey Depew Has to Say of Our City.

NEW YORK, April 20.—In the course of an interview to-day Chauncey Depew says, "While the business depression and unprecedented number of unemployed are the common condition of our Western States, we found a conspicuously exception, and that was St. Louis. St. Louis seemed to be doing as much business and in a more prosperous condition than any other city. Its local industries are active and healthy, and its merchants, with all that means in the way of employment, are doing an increasing and rapid business."

"The St. Louis business men say that this is because St. Louis has developed more slowly. It is true, but much more safely and on more solid foundations than its rivals. There is no greater proof of this than in the growth of the railroads, which are the markets of St. Louis, which are the markets of St. Louis, have been less affected than any other part of the country by the panic and the depression."

"We must remember that 300,000 people have gone to Oklahoma in the last fifteen years, and they are their own citizens from St. Louis. The products of Arkansas found a ready market and its requirements from the St. Louis market are correspondingly large. So that St. Louis stands to the railroads as the railroads stand to the nation."

"The railroads have had a great increase in traffic since the visit of the Omahas and Council Bluffs delegations."

HAD RECEIVED NO REQUESTS.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 20.—At the offices of the various western railroads here this afternoon the receipt by officials of any telegrams from Council Bluffs demanding transportation for Kelly's army was denied.

PREPARATIONS AT DES MOINES.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 20.—At a meeting of the City Council here last night, called to consider the approach of Kelly's Commonwealers, it was decided to make an appeal to the people to furnish food and money for transportation, if necessary, to hasten the journey eastward.

ORDERED TO MOVE ON.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 20.—The Mayor, city trustees, county supervisors and half of the police have been in consultation and the result is that Capt. Williams has been told that beyond feeding his 200 Industrial Guard he must do nothing but transport them to the railroad.

Williams suggested that they might take half the army to Davenport if the St. Paul would take the other half to the river, as it was to pay a fare, as might be just to the Governor. The Governor agreed to recompence the roads, as all the other lines acquiesced.

Kelly then left the car and called on the company officers suppressed the numerous vocal demonstrations which were made.

At 12 o'clock the marchers, headed by Mr. T. Hersey, made an attempt to lay siege to the Rock Island depot, but were repelled by the railroad officials.

Later on the Eastern railroads in this city put themselves and cars out of Council Bluffs as prompt action seemed necessary to avoid trouble. By 2:30 p.m. 2,000 men crossed the bridge from Omaha into Council Bluffs on the way to join the crowd that preceeded them.

They marched up to the Burlington tracks and were ready to be started south the minute Kelly's army started to return to Council Bluffs.

COMMANDER VINETT FINED.

COLTON, Cal., April 20.—Commander Vinett of the unemployed army has been sentenced to pay a fine of $2 or serve twenty days in jail for defrauding the Rock Island Pacific out of fare. He, with seven other army men, was on trial for the charge of rioting and were held to answer to the Superior Court with bail at $500. The army yesterday followed the example set by the Big Four.

"We must remember that 300,000 people have gone to Oklahoma in the last fifteen years, and they are their own citizens from St. Louis. The products of Arkansas found a ready market and its requirements from the St. Louis market are correspondingly large. So that St. Louis stands to the railroads as the railroads stand to the nation."

The Sheriff has been in communication with Edward Rockwood of Hot Springs, Ark., from whom he got the information that the post-office in Hot Springs, Sheriff Rockwood believes that Rockwood is making illegal telegraphic correspondence with Rockwood.

Prof. Sanders, who is now in possession of the wire, is executing and who is in jail here, refuses to talk.

BANDIT AT BAY

Results of the Battle With Outlaw Dalton and His Band.

Two Marshals Killed and Three of the Robbers Mortally Wounded.

THE LEADER BELIEVED TO HAVE RECEIVED HIS DEATH SHOT.

Mrs. Miller, Wife of One of the Gang, and Her Babe Struck With Bullets—After a Whole Day's Fight the Brigands Break Through the Lines and are Pursued by Officers—Details of the Battle—Dalton's Record.

GUTHRIE, O. T., April 20.—The report received here yesterday of a battle between the Dalton gang and Deputy Marshals, near Ingalls, fifty-five miles from this city, is confirmed to-day.

The fight occurred at the house of Bruce Miller, one of the outlaws. The officers surrounded the house, and those armed with Winchesters, just before daylight. The Dalton bandits were inside. No shots were fired until one of the desperadoes came out about daylight to feed the horses. He was held up and told to take a look around the grounds, and then return. He refused, telling the bandits to shoot him out one at a time, unarmed, and unarmed, or hostilities would commence. After looking over the field and finding a shooting distance of the house twenty men, well armed, the outlaw turned to his companions.

* * * THE BATTLE BEGINS.

For half a hour's consultation was had by the bandits before a stir was made by either party, and then the officers in command of the party ordered his men to begin firing.

The house is a simple weather-boarded structure and not plastered, and the shots from the Marshals' Winchesters easily perforated the sides of the building. The cased bandits returned the fire and poured a rattling fire on the officers through the windows and crevices of the house.

MRS. BRUCE AND HER BABY SHOT.

At 10 o'clock Mrs. Bruce who had been wounded left the house and crawled to where one of the Marshals was located behind a tree. She had received a flesh wound and begged that she might be permitted to ride to Ingalls for a doctor to attend her. Her husband and another who were both wounded and a woman who was permitted to saddle a horse and leave. She would not state how many outlaws were killed but admitted that Bill Dalton and Bill Doolan had been seriously if not fatally wounded.

The fight was kept up all day during Wednesday. Volley after volley was fired into the house by the officers, and the constant crack of the bandits' Winchesters told of their determination to hold out and refuse to surrender.

BORE THROUGH THE LINE.

Shortly after nightfall, during a lull in the firing, the bandits made a break from the house, and fled, pursued by the deputies. They went in the direction of the Creek Indian country. The messengers who brought this news did not learn whether or not Dalton and Doolan had been killed, but was told that three fatally wounded bandits were left in Miller's house after their companions had broken through the line of officers. He stated that two of the officers' poses were killed and three wounded.

Some of the survivors, seen in this territory are with the partisans, Bill Tighman, Mac Thomas and Will Madsen are there. None of these men were ever known to fight. They talked to our correspondent on the night they left this city and they said: "We will not return alive without our game with us."

The messenger who brings in the above information says that Mrs. Bruce Miller is not dangerously wounded. The United States Marshals started out on another posse from this city to-day to assist the chase.

BILL DALTON'S RECORD.

The killing of Bill Dalton probably adds the last chapter to the history of the outlaws of this notorious name. At the time of the raid on the Coffeyville banks, in which Bob and Grat Dalton were killed and Emmet Dalton wounded and captured, Bill Dalton was reported to have been a citizen of the city and been a member of the California Legislature, and had also been charged with complicity in robbing a train in that state, but he was never tried and evidence to substantiate the charge and, although he was taken into custody, he was released without trial. He was then engaged in farming at the time of the Coffeyville raid and, with his older brother, Ben, superintended the farm.

Since that time Bill developed into a full-fledged desperado, and at the head of a gang of outlaws has terrorized the towns of Coffeyville, Kansas, and surrounding banks and trains, and defying State and Federal authorities. This gang had a desperate nature and was the cause of many acts of lawlessness. The Marshals had been in pursuit of the bandits and surprised Bill Dalton, Bill Doolan, Arkansas, and Jim Jones, who were at Newcomb's drinking at the bar of the Ingalls Hotel. There were thirteen men in the gang, and when the officers entered the hotel in town had holes shot in them, and the hotel and adjoining buildings had the appearance of being pattered with bullet holes.

The mother of the Dalton boys lives with a daughter who is married to a man named Whipple, near Peoria, Ill. The Dalton boys, it is believed, have no crime has ever been charged, lives on a claim near Hennessy and his two younger brothers, Simon and Cale, who are mere boys, live with him.

Thrown From His Wagon.

At 9:30 a. m. to-day Cass avenue car 26 collided with a wagon belonging to the Troy Laundry, 2210 North Market street, at Glasgow avenue and North Market street. William Heisler of 2514 Salina street the driver of the wagon was thrown out and his hand bruised. The wagon was damaged 150.

Blue Label Shoes.

The Globes, northwest corner Franklin avenue and Seventh street, have just received 100 cases blue label shoes.

HAS BEEN SETTLED.

Stonemasons' Differences at Chain of Rocks Patched Up.

The trouble that threatened the H. O'Meara Construction Co. in its work at Chain of Rocks, is over. The local and National Union of Stonemasons have patched up their difficulties, and the stonemasons who met last night at Central Turner Hall and decided to go out this morning in case the Local Union of Stonemasons had not gone to work, are setting stones on the setting wall. Mr. J. B. O'Meara made a statement to this effect.

STOLL'S WARLIKE LETTER.

The Note Breckinridge's Attorney Sent to Miss Pollard's Chief Counsel.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—The letter which Breckinridge's attorney, Charles H. Stoll, sent to ex-Judge Jeremiah Wilson, asking him to do what he could to get the case of John S. Stoll, out of the hands of the U. S. Marshals, was filed in the U. S. Marshals' office yesterday morning. Indeed, he has intimated "as much" that it is suggested that Lawyer Stoll can scarcely fail to find "trouble," since he is so much in the public eye. Jeremiah M. Wilson:

DEAR SIR—On Saturday, the trial of the suit of Pollard vs. Breckinridge, you took advantage of the opportunity to call upon me, and I was sorry to note that you were not responded to, to deliberately use language from which the jury and public could understand that you had not been informed of the misrepresentation of testimony, especially when you had the last speech. The same is not thought that Mr. Wilson is likely to notice of the insulting aspects. John S. Stoll:

DEAR SIR—On Saturday, the trial of the suit of Pollard vs. Breckinridge, you took advantage of the opportunity to call upon me, and I was sorry to note that you were not responded to, to deliberately use language from which the jury and public could understand that you had not been informed of the misrepresentation of testimony, especially when you had the last speech. The same is not thought that Mr. Wilson is likely to notice of the insulting aspects. Indeed, he has intimated "as much" that it is suggested that Lawyer Stoll can scarcely fail to find "trouble," since he is so much in the public eye. The outcome of the controversy may not have been reached yet.

The letter to Mr. Wilson follows:

EAT STRIKE

to Be Inaugurated by the Coal Miners To-Morrow.

Be the Most Wide-Reaching the World Ever Knew.

NEARLY 8,000 MINES IN THE UNITED STATES WILL BE ABANDONED.

A QUARTER OF A MILLION MEN IN ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY MAY THUS BE COME IDLE—The State of Ohio Will Be
One of the Greatest Sufferers—Preparations in Other States.

VERLAND, O., April 20.—Speaking of the risks and prospects of the big coal miners, ordered for to-morrow at noon, a quiet Massillon operator says:

"It will be the greatest coal miners' strike world ever saw. It will not last longer than June, but it may be satisfactorily settled within two weeks. Probably 3,000 mines in the United States will be abandoned and nearly 300,000 miners will be idle, leaving mines 300 are located in Ohio and less in the Massillon district.

The majority of the operators believe it is the right of the master, there is a minority who have presented a peaceful settlement of the matter, having power that minorities occasionally have."

BEVERLY MINERS HESITATE.

COW, Mo., April 20.—A large number of beverly coal miners are dissatisfied over a decision to suspend work to-morrow in obedience to the call of President McBride. The miners state that they are financially able to stand a suspension.
Henry Sackman and A. V. Hallows have been nominated by the citizens party candidates for the offices of Mayor and Illinois City
Clerk respectively.

MARRIED IN ST. LOUIS.

An East St. Louis Couple Overcame
a Religious Problem—Belleville News.

Robert A. Bennett and Miss Alice O'Leary, both of East St. Louis, were married in St.
Louis Wednesday. It is said they were forced to leave the city to be married on account of partial objection to their union. Bennett is a young railroad man who has been living at 800 St. Louis avenue. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. C. O'Leary of 115 St. Louis avenue. Bennett's folks are Protestants and the O'Learys are Catholics, which accounts for the objection to the marriage. Since the wedding has taken place, however, the objection has been removed. The parents of the couple state that the only obstacle heretofore was a difference as to whether the couple should be married as Catholics or Protestants.

Charles Callahan, an old citizen, died to-day at his home, 427 North Sixteenth street. He was an uncle of James Connell, a brakeman, who was arrested here today on the charge of killing a telegraph train at W.
McKinley, a town in Indiana. Superintendent of the H. & R. railway. The police here have not been able to locate the property.

Daniel McGlynn, arrested on the charge of vagrancy, was sentenced to the work-house for six months.

Detective Alister of St. Louis came over to the city to investigate the robbery from the dwelling of the Princess Alix. It is supposed to have been done by the Princess' own maid and the detectives are trying to locate the property.

Daniel McGlynn has been appointed representative of the Ancient Order of Hibernians conference of the Ancient Order of Hibernians to be held next month.

The anniversary of the R. R. Y. M. C. A. will be observed next Sunday at all the Protestant churches in the city. The children party candidates for the offices of Mayor and Illinois City

Clerk respectively.

Belleville.

The barbers of Belleville will probably in-agurate the Sunday closing movement in a short time. It is said that all the leading shop-owners are in favor of it, and employees without exception are anxious to have the plan put into operation. No protest from them has been received.

Nicholas Bonelli, administrator of Joseph Ehrling, made a settlement in the County Court yesterday, which was signed by the Hon. George Kirch, Sheriff of the County, New York, and Charles Becker, Conservator of Jacob Hanen, made a settlement with him.

WANTED HER PUNISHED.

Wallace Farries Requests That His Wife
Be Given a Long Term.

Ada Farries, who last week had Bud Pope and William Lewis arrested for shooting at her, was this morning fined $1 by Judge
Faxon for firing two shots at her husband, Wallace Farries. Ada formerly had both husband and wife for loving her. Ada had been married to Wallace Farries about a month ago, and he had been told that she had been married to the Jaded Lewis, for seven years. She went there to see him, but she didn't want to be called.
So he fired through the window again. Pope was fined by Faxon, and Lewis still has Ada upbraided her husband yesterday for talking to another colored woman and fired her. Ada, Farries, was married to Wallace Farries in which the latter told him he wanted the woman given six months, and not less than four.

Warrant for Rhubarb.

Charles Rhubarb was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Gibbons of the State District, and has been identified as the man who is accused of having swindled about a dozen residents of the West End out of small sums of money. He would sell silk stockings, towels, underwear and like articles at a high price, and collect payment in advance. He claimed that he had goods from outside of St. Louis.

He came yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. McElroy, 355 Finney Avenue, and induced her to advance him $3 on a $17 order. After he was arrested she called at the police station and made him return the money.

Mrs. L. M. Hickey of 501 Clement Avenue secured a warrant charging him with larceny. Mrs. R. W. Wilson of 301 Finney avenue is also a witness against the man.

SPEAKING of the Missouri Democrats, the Republic remarks: "Their principles have been indicated by a third of a century's experience in constant violation of every one." This sentence doubtless embodies a great truth, the diagram of which is anxiously awaited by the Democracy.

ATTORNEY STOLL, in his eagerness to fit himself for a Kentucky Republican nomination, is ably aiding Col. Phil Thompson to show the world what a poor lot of legal advisers Billy Breckinridge had when he ventured to defend in that Pollard suit. If he had not secured help from Ben Butterworth before the case went to the jury his home counsel would have "stuck" him for every cent of the $50,000 claimed.

THE Coroner's jury finds that Fireman Gannon's death was accidental. But it is not an accident that the wires which kill are not under ground.

QUEEN VICTORIA is so old and infirm that she had to remain seated all the time at Coburg, and still she is not willing to trust the British Empire to her oldest boy.

MRS. POTTER PALMER is writing two large volumes on women's work at the World's Fair. Mrs. Palmer is a great condenser if she is reporting all that was said.

If the Carnegies deceive the Government in regard to armor plates they not also deceive innocent statesmen like Mr. McKinley in writing his bills for him?

SENATOR LODGE's proposition to tax the American people in order to force England into a bimetallic agreement is worthy of Lodge, but unworthy of anybody else's attention.

THE armor plate scandal has reached a point where a Congressional investigation is a Democratic necessity. The party cannot afford to rest under the imputation of countenancing or compounding fraud.

It seems that the Carnegie managers not only deceived Uncle Samuel, but broke the Sabbath to do it. They may, however, have looked upon the deception of Uncle Samuel as a work of necessity in their business.

THE Coxeyes would go to some of the Republicans and assist them in the Senate and represent themselves as manufacturers whose mills have been closed because the tariff tax is not high enough, they might get a hearing.

THE Republicans of New Jersey have no more faithful representative than Senator Smith, yet it isn't likely they will return him to the Senate. Democrats do not want such Democrats and Republicans will not have them—at least in the office.

THE Attorney-General of Illinois proposes to break up the Chicago Gas Trust. He finds a law against such corporations and is willing to leave its constitutionality to the courts. But then he is only a Western man, with rude ideas of the duties of an Attorney-General.

It is hard to say what is the protection idea of the depth and density of American ignorance when the protection journals warn the American farmer that the free traders will put wheat on the free list, and that foreigners will then undersell our farmers in the home market.

MR. ASTOR may have written a clever book, but that is immaterial. He has so much money that he can afford to write books without brains. The writing of a man whose signature to a million-dollar check is good, will be very interesting to many people.

THE Sergeant-at-Arms of the House says that simple straight-forward obedience to the law requiring him to dock absentees will not only be troublesome but impossible. The House evidently needs a new Sergeant-at-Arms who is willing to obey the laws and legal orders of the House.

THE Captain of the cruiser New reports that great ship came near being blown out of the water on the way to Rio de Janeiro because of serious defects in machinery and magazines. But he does not understand the uses of a navy. Warships are built not to protect commerce or defend the country, but to understand and the people will sooner or later follow his advice. They will take the tariff and every other private enterprise out of politics. And when this is done politicians like those named will find themselves also out of politics, free to devote themselves exclusively to business without being annoyed from time to time by roll-calls and debates on bills which have "nothing in them."

THE SPECIAL JURY LAW.

The revival of the special jury question and the exposition of the operation of the special jury law in yesterday's Post-Dispatch are timely reminders that the next session of the Legislature should mark the abolition of this blot on the administration of justice.

As every lawyer knows, and as the practical working of the law demonstrates, the statute is a farce—when it is not a wrong. The law, while granting the privilege of securing special juries to litigants, does not define their qualifications or specify their mode of selection.

DR. WM. A. HAMMOND, Frances E. Willard, Charles A. Dana, the Rev. Heber Newton and Kate Field all say that they intend to be cremated. Katie says that cremation is the healthiest, cleanest and most poetical way of disposing of a "dead" mortal body."

PERHAPS it is the publication of other people's books that has got Mark Twain down. An author must stand by his own works if he would win. Seeing him put his capital into other men's works may possibly lead the public into the perilous belief that he lacks confidence in his own.

WINNING the first base ball game is not winning the last one or the one in the middle of the season, but yesterday's playing has aroused anew the hopes of all the local fans. If the Pirates, before their departure, do not make out boys walk the plank, we may yet behold the pennant.

THE Chicago lady who thrashed her husband and two women in a theater and then seized the gun by the collar and led him home is a real matrimonial bulwark. Chicago might be reformed if she had more such sturdy wives.

WHEN ex-President Harrison finds his office furniture all splintered and his walls perforated with bullets he will be inclined to deliver a lecture to his Indiana fellow-citizens on the constitutionality of carrying a pistol.

EX-PRESIDENT Harrison finds in Mr. Tibbets an excellent private secretary, but if he now and then signs for the only Lieb Halford, who is off braving the dangers of army life, his emotion is not misunderstood.

THERE must be a great deal of lawlessness in this country when a good citizen dares not venture into the law office of an ex-President without putting on a boiler-duster.

THE PLACER MINE BOOM.

Bimetallists on both sides of the ocean attribute the deranged exchanges and unwise paroxysm now afflicting all countries to the adoption of the single gold standard by the leading commercial nations. The purchasing power of gold, they say, has been steadily increasing through all the years since the exhaustion of the placer mines of Australia and California limited the annual output. A scant supply favored gold cornering operations, and by putting a stop to the free coinage of silver everywhere and making a wholly inadequate supply of gold the only standard of value and the only medium for the settlement of international balances, the creditor nations have imported to gold a constantly increasing power which makes inevitable a continuous decrease in the price of all other productions, a falling market for all kinds of business.

But if there is no other reason for the widespread business stagnation it may be all over much sooner than the gold bond manipulators anticipate. The supposed depreciation of silver and appreciation of gold have closed many silver mines, reopened many gold mines and started thousands at gold mining and prospecting who were recently intent upon flooding the world with silver. The result in Colorado alone has been the discovery of fifty new gold placers since Christmas. One that was discovered last year has been yielding at the rate of $7,000,000 per annum and results so far warrant the estimate that Colorado's gold output this year will be not less than $20,000,000, against only $6,000,000 for 1892.

Now, if Colorado's gold output can be quadrupled thus in so short a time, it is not unreasonable to expect that the same cause, operating everywhere else, will at least double the world's annual product of the yellow metal. It would not take such a rate of production many years to restore the old ratio of value between gold and silver, to solve the coinage problem for all nations and to establish bimetallism in all nations upon the permanent basis of an international agreement.

THE Supreme Court of South Carolina holds that a law which turns the Government into a shopkeeper and enables it to make a profit by monopoly is unconstitutional. This looks well on its face, but serious consequences would follow an application of the same rule to the Federal Government. If that Government may not go into business alone and to make a profit, does it not follow that it may not go into partnership with the manufacturers of collars and cuffs, sugar, coal and iron with no expectation of profit to itself? In these industries the Government is the most active partner, it does the most work and contributes the most useful part of the capital—that is monopoly. The profit all goes to the other partners and comes out of the people who are despoiled by the alliance between Uncle Sam and his favorite friends. The South Carolina constitution provides that no citizen shall be "despoiled or dispossessed" of his property except by process of law. This provision is to be found expressly stated in the Federal constitution, and is there made binding on both Federal and State governments, but it does not prevent legislative decrees whereby private monopolies "despoil and dispossess" citizens of their property.

THOMAS BRACKEN REED:

"My countrymen, behold a quorum counted! I hope you all perceive that I am mounted."

William McKinley:

"Good people all, in each locality, I trust you keep in mind my great plurality."

Benjamin Harrison:

"O voters, I am not inclined to boast, but you know who's been lecturing on the coast."

The people:

"Lord, preserve us once again From Tom and Bill and also Ben! If punishment you have in view, We'd just as well have O. Depew."

Is the Earl of Abingdon sold his "Cunner place" to Scott-Hall with the understanding that the ghosts of Amy Robart, Varney and Anthony Foster occupied it, when the real Cunner place and the ghosts were somewhere else, the British law ought to have reached, so wicked a swindler. When a buyer buys ghosts he wants them. These Cunner ghosts have a substantial, historic value, and American tourists would be paid handsomely to see them.

It is not clear to the ordinary eye, beholding from a distance, why Chicago capitalists should want to fill up space on the lake front when they still have several feet between the ground and the sky to build in.

A LETTER TO GLADSTONE.
Dr. O'Reilly Expresses the Sympathy of Americans with the Statesmen.

When it was definitely known that Mr. Gladstone had been compelled by age and in firmity to resign his position in the British Cabinet, some of the sympathizers with Irish self-government called on Dr. O'Reilly and suggested to him the propriety of writing a letter of expression of sympathy, to the Prime Minister, of which the enclosed is a copy.

Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, House of Commons, London, England.

MY DEAR SIR.—There are events in human life which fill our hearts with grief, and make us realize our own mortality. Amongst these, I consider it is your consciousness, enhanced as it is by the consciousness that such subjects organized beings, thus precluding the hope for you for the welfare of humanity.

It is every consolation for you to know that we are with you in your efforts to secure the welfare of your fellow-men.

We have analyzed your career with that profoundness of many on your side of the Atlantic, and the universal verdict is that as a statesman you did all that was possible for the welfare of your country, and in doing so recommended an opposition which some years ago appeared invincible.

Kindly accept my sincere and deepest sorrow for your resignation, and associate their Humanitarian qualities of this or any other age.

With feelings of the utmost respect and most anxiety for your happiness, I remain your very devoted friend.

To this letter Mr. Gladstone, his wife and family, addressed in a recent note dated London, April 1, briefly replied, thanking the doctor and expressing their gratification at receiving it.

SUCCEEDS VANCE.

Ex-Gov. Jarvis of North Carolina Appointed to the Senate.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 20.—Ex-Gov. Thos. J. Jarvis has been appointed United States Senator to succeed Senator Vance, deceased. Senator-elect Jarvis is a native of North Carolina, and is in his 59th year. He began life as a farm laborer, and borrowed money to obtain an education. He graduated at Harvard Medical in 1860, and entered the Confederate Army as an private, receiving promotions to Lieutenant and captain, and being retired from service by the shattering of his arm. After the war he studied law, was admitted to practice in 1866. He entered politics, serving his party with conspicuously ability in important places, and in 1870 was elected Lieutenant Governor, and succeeded to the Governorship in 1879 by the election of Gov. Vance to the United States Senate. In 1881 he was appointed Commissioner to the office he then held and filled it until 1884, when he was appointed Minister to Brazil. Since his return to the United States he has engaged in the practice of the law.

"Quick Meal"

Gasoline Stoves.

TOTAL NUMBER NOW IN USE,

295,004.

The marvelous success of "Quick Meal" Gasoline Stoves is caused by their absolute safety against accidents. This absolute safety is acquired in the following manner: The Burners cannot be opened farther than necessary; the Tank can not be taken off for filling unless all the Burners are shut; an Indicator shows whether the Burners are open or closed; a glass tube shows the dripping of gasoline. "Quick Meal" Gasoline Stoves are durable, simple and economical. These wonderful stoves must be seen to be appreciated. Sales last year, 71,316 stoves. We refer to every one.
